

CMN101: PUBLIC SPEAKING

Spring 2016 Sections for International Students

What are these sections of CMN101?

CMN101 for International Students:

1. Are reserved for International Students
2. Are designed to foster a supportive and collaborative intercultural experience
3. Contain the same content as all CMN101 sections, but have additional information for International Students, including:
 - aspects of American vocal and physical delivery
 - common pronunciation issues
 - training in American methods of citation and research
 - American approaches to argumentation
 - intercultural communication theory and practice

Section NN1 – CRN 50488 – MWF 12 pm

Section NN2 – CRN 50497 – MWF 1 pm

Section NN3 – CRN 50517 – TR 12:30 pm

Section NN4 – CRN 58536 – TR 2 pm

These sections are reserved for International Students.

If you meet this requirement, but get an error message when registering, go to <http://go.illinois.edu/CMN101nonnativeEnglishspeakers> for permission to register.

For more information, contact Dr. Mardia Bishop at mjbishop@illinois.edu.

