

ILLINOIS NEURODIVERSITY INITIATIVE

I-N-I

SUPPORT PROGRAMMING FOR STUDENTS ON THE AUTISM SPECTRUM

Supports include:

Courses each semester to promote self-awareness and advocacy as well as executive function and employment skills

Individualized weekly mental health check-ins with the Department of Psychology

Social accountability group

Parent support group

Mentorship program

Corporate engagement/internship opportunities.

Housed in the department of Human Development and Family Studies, I-N-I is run by staff from The Autism Program (TAP) at UIUC with support from the department of Psychology, the University of Illinois Autism Clinic, the College of Engineering, and Disability Resources and Educational Services (DRES).

It is anticipated INI will become a fee-based service. Scholarships will be made available.

Funding is provided in whole or in part by The Autism Program of Illinois and the Illinois Dept. of Human Services

The Illinois Neurodiversity Initiative aims to impact neurodivergent students from orientation through graduation to successful employment through academic, social, mental health, and job readiness support.
